

If You are the Head of a Family

you owe it to your loved ones to provide for THEIR future.
Far sighted men appoint a competent Trust Company to administer upon their estate.
This trustworthy Trust Company is particularly well fitted to act as your Executor.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY
GREENCASTLE, INDIANA
CAPITAL $50,000

Window Glass

NOW IS THE TIME TO REPLACE
THOSE BROKEN WINDOW PANES.

We can supply any size window glass you desire. Do not wait until cold weather forces you to have the broken glass replaced, but Do It Now, and be prepared.

The Owl Drug Store

Opera House

A. Cook Prop. and Mgr.

EXTRA! SPECIAL! EXTRA!

The Banner Show Of The Season

Ren fax Musical Motion Pictures.
Vaudeville on the screen.

Singing, Laughing, Dancing, Movies.

Renfax is not a song illustrated by moving pictures, but the actual reproduction by the marvelous Renaphone of vaudeville acts, comic opera numbers, choruses and dancing. You not only see your favorite actor but hear him as well. This is the first time singing and dancing pictures have been successfully produced. A GUARANTEED ATTRACTION. YOUR MONEY BACK IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED.

Mutual and Universal Program Combined

--Mutual--	--Universal--
"THE REDEMPTION OF A PAL" In Two Parts. Featuring Winifred Greenwood and Ed Coxen. American Drama.	"A MYSTERIOUS MYSTERY" Featuring Florence Lawrence and Matt Moore. A play within a play. In Two Acts. Victor Drama.
"HE LOVED THE LADIES" A Scream from Start to Finish. Keystone Comedy.	UNIVERSAL BOY IN "THE JUVENILE REFORMER" Featuring Little Mitty. Imp Comedy Drama.

9 FULL REELS 9
Admission only 10c to all.

Show Starts at 7 O'clock

VANDALIA TRAIN KILLS FOREIGNER

LIFELESS BODY OF MAN IDENTIFIED AS ANTHONY FEIL OF PITTSBURG, PA., IS FOUND ON VANDALIA TRACKS WEST OF REELSVILLE BY SECTION MEN—BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN SLEEPING ON TRACKS.

BODY BADLY MUTILATED

The mangled and lifeless body of Anthony Feil, a foreigner who was "beating his way to Pittsburg, Pa., was found this morning at 6:30 o'clock on the Vandalia railroad tracks 2 miles west of Reelsville, by section men who were on their way to work. The man was walking the tracks and is supposed to have sat down on the rails and gone to sleep. An eastbound engine and caboose which passed Reelsville about 3:30 is believed to have been the train which struck the unfortunate man.

Feil was seen by the telegraph operator at Eagles, a small station west of Reelsville and the man was walking the tracks east. He told the operator he was on his way to Pittsburg and asked where he could catch a freight train. He left the telegraph office at 3 o'clock and put out for Greencastle. An extra train composed of an engine and caboose passed shortly after he had left and it is naturally supposed that this train struck him.

The top of the man's head was severed from his body, one arm was cut off near the shoulder and again at the wrist. Practically every bone in his body was fractured and his face was lacerated beyond recognition. He was believed to be between 25 and 30 years old.

Two letters were found in his coat pocket from his sister, Mary Feil, 811 Ridge avenue, Pittsburg. The letters were written in Italian, and their contents are not known. Both letters were received in Missouri. The man wore a blue serge suit and was fairly well dressed. Sixty-five cents in small change and an empty bill book was also found in his clothes.

Coroner C. T. Zaring was notified of the accident and made an investigation this morning. The body was brought to the Hanna undertaking establishment in this city and prepared for burial. A telegram was sent to the man's sister at Pittsburg but as yet no answer has been received. If no word is received the body will be interred in the potter's field in Forest Hill.

SCRUBS AND REGULARS MEET IN STIFF SCRIMMAGE TODAY

Scrimmage, with every letter a capital, was the order of practice in the DePauw football camp today. The struggle was between the regulars and the second team and spectators saw some good football.

Early in the afternoon, Reule, who has been drilling the scrubs, took them to Sunset Hill where they were given a hard workout in the rudiments of the game and in signal drills. Some new plays also were given them to spring on the varsity. At three o'clock the scrubs and their leader invaded McKeen Field where Coach Bogle and his regulars were working. The advent of the scrubs was the signal for a battle and in a short time a game was on. The heavy workouts of the past week told on the playing of the first team and it was able to push its opponents for long gains very frequently. The scrubs fought stubbornly, however, and although the regulars came through the fracas with the big end of the count, it was no walkaway. The two teams will stage two more practice games before the set to with Franklin on McKeen field Monday.

Coach Bogle will watch the outcome of the Earlham-Wabash game at Crawfordsville Saturday with interest. Both of these schools are on the Old Gold schedule and the strength that each shows in the game will aid Bogle in preparing for them later in the season.

Mrs. W. T. Young and son, Collier, of Indianapolis, are here to be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Park Dunbar, who reside on Bloomington street.

TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR CELEBRATION

MEETING OF GREENCASTLE BUSINESS MEN WILL BE HELD MONDAY NIGHT TO DECIDE WHETHER OR NOT CELEBRATION OF HALLOWE'EEN IS ADVISABLE—CALLED BY MAYOR COOPER.

WOULD NAME COMMITTEE

The question of whether or not Greencastle will observe Halloween by a big celebration this year will be decided next Monday night when a number of local business men will meet at the call of Mayor Cooper to discuss the project. The meeting will be held in the mayor's office at 7:30 o'clock. Every local business man or any other citizen interested in the project are asked to attend.

The idea of having a celebration here on October 31 was the outcome of the recent celebration of Disease Prevention Day. The committees in charge and the people of the town carried that celebration to such a great success that some suggested the plan of following it with another celebration just as large. The idea is to have a night of fun and frolic on the thirty-first when everybody can forget their work for a while and join in a general good time. Decorations of the most unique character, a grotesque parade, a band concert and a masked ball are some of the possibilities of the proposed celebration.

If the idea appeals to the people enough to warrant their attendance at the meeting Monday night and their support in other ways, Mayor Cooper will appoint a committee to carry the plans to completion.

UNION CAMPAIGN IS SUCCESSFUL

HEBER ELLIS, GRADUATE MANAGER OF DEPAUW ATHLETICS, REPORTS PROGRESS IN ATTEMPT TO SECURE NEW MEMBERS TO DEPAUW ATHLETIC UNION—INDICATIONS ARE THAT MEMBERSHIP WILL BE AS LARGE AS LAST YEAR.

CARDS ADMIT TO GAMES

The 1914 campaign for members of the DePauw Athletic Union is meeting with considerable success, according to the statement of Heber Ellis, Graduate Manager of Athletics in the local institution. Mr. Ellis at present is making a campaign among the people of Greencastle who were members of the union last year or who have evidenced an interest in athletics since that time.

Only about half of the people that will be seen here been asked to join the union to date but the results thus far are very encouraging. Mr. Ellis says. Last year over seventy local people became members of the union by paying $5.00 and it is apparent now that this number again will be reached in the present campaign. The money derived from the sale of membership cards is used by the athletic board in helping defray the expenses of the different DePauw teams in carrying out the athletic schedules. In return for the money paid for membership those holding union cards are admitted free to all contests staged on McKeen field.

The DePauw Union is conducted differently from the manner in which unions in many other schools are conducted. At some institutions it practically is compulsory for business and professional men to become members. This is because students "cut" those who do not belong and throw their trade to members of the union. No attempt is made here either by the students or athletic officials to have this situation brought about and it is not probable that any attempt will be made in that direction.

Mrs. Martha Moore returned to her home in Brownsville Wednesday after a several days' visit with Rev. and Mrs. Bert DeWitt Beck on east Anderson street. She is Mrs. Beck's mother and has often visited here.

DRAWS A LESSON FROM GREAT WAR

PROF. TILDEN CITIES GERMANY AS EXAMPLE OF PREPAREDNESS—EACH DAY SPENT IN SCHOOLS PAST SIXTH GRADE IS WORTH TEN DOLLARS TO THE STUDENT.

EDUCATION IS VALUABLE

Prof. Tilden of DePauw University was the speaker at the weekly chapel exercises at the Brazil high school Wednesday morning. His subject was "Preparation for Life."

A striking illustration of preparedness is furnished us in the rapid mobilization of the armies of the nations of Europe, now at war. Prof. Tilden quoted an eye witness of the assembling of the German troops, telling how each man, on being notified to report for service, found at the recruiting station his complete equipment, arranged and marked for his individual use. Within a few minutes after reporting to the officer in charge, he stepped out ready for battle, leaving his citizen clothes until need for them should develop.

The speaker referred to a chart hanging on the school room wall at Gary, which gives statistics to prove that every day spent in school above the sixth grade is worth ten dollars to a boy. When asked what the schools give the boy that adds so much to his value, Supt. Wirt replied that he did not know. In fact, eminent scholars vary in their opinion as to what phase of school work is of most value in preparing for life. Prof. H. G. Wells of England, in a new book, predicts the end of his nation because of too much emphasis on the classics and not enough on science, while Prof. Brooks Adams expects America to suffer because, as he thinks, too much attention is given to science.

Schools and schooling with all their activities are worth while from the primary standpoint, and in addition, give a broad outlook on an interest in life in general that are worth much more.—Brazil Times.

DEATH OF MRS. NANCY SWEENEY ON WEDNESDAY

The death of Mrs. Nancy Sweeney, age 77, widow of the late Andrew Sweeney of this county, occurred Wednesday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Bert Eldredge, in Volga, South Dakota. The body will be brought here for burial and probable will arrive Friday afternoon.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Sweeney comes as a great shock and surprise to her many friends in Greencastle and Putnam county. Only three weeks ago she left for the home of her daughter to spend the winter there. Her son, Andrew Sweeney had received several letters from her after she reached Volga but there were no intimations of illness.

Wednesday afternoon he received a telegram announcing the death but the cause of her death was not given. Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge left this morning and will accompany the body home. It probably will arrive here tomorrow afternoon and will be taken to the home of her son, Andrew Sweeney, at Limesdale. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The death of John Sweeney, who was one of Madison township's best known farmers, occurred about seven months ago. Mrs. Sweeney leaves three children, Andrew Sweeney of Limesdale, Daisy Eldredge of Volga, N. D., and Mrs. Effie Colglazier of Orleans, Ind., wife of Rev. Samuel Colglazier. She also leaves her brother, Philip Frank, of this city and her sister, Mrs. Lucinda Dimler of Fillmore to mourn her loss.

Our neighboring town of Bainbridge is stepping pretty high these days, all because they've assumed city airs. Last Thursday evening they "turned on the juice" for the first time on their electric light system, and the occasion was celebrated by music by a brass band and a general good time in parading the newly lighted streets. The people of Bainbridge certainly have reason for shaking hands with the "it's a" at

The Person Who Depends on Borrowing money from a friend in time of need usually finds that people part with their money reluctantly.

Establish your business relations with this STRONG BANK now and in times of need we will not forget you.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Capital $75,000 Surplus $40,000

Our Canned Goods

department is ready to serve you with the season's fresh Jams and Preserves. The lines consist of the most dainty and appetizing rarities—Red Raspberry Logan Berry, Danish Plum, Strawberry, Peach and Red Cherries.

E. A. Browning's Grocery.
PHONE 24.

THE HIGH PRICE OF FLOUR

Will not affect the quality of our Bread Your grocer handles our bread. ASK FOR IT.

LUETEKE'S BAKERY. PHONE 131

Piano or Player

SEE ME
F. G. Knetzer at the old J. F. Hill Store

4 S. Jackson St. Greencastle, Ind Music ordered at all times

Lyric Tonight

SAFE! SAFE! SAFE!
The 10th episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery." The pace is set. Certainly the most beautiful settings; the all-star cast, the public's keen interest; packed houses where this grand picture is shown; no fake pictures here.

A Complete Showing Of the Fall & Winter Tailored Suits.

To appreciate the wonderful style, quality and values we are offering in Ladies' Tailored Suits for Fall it is necessary to see them, and try them on. We can not remember a season when suits were more practical, the long graceful lines of the jacket, and the wider skirts, appeal to every woman. Our great variety of style, the popular price are so attractive.

In the collection you will find the newest shadings, the hard to get fabrics and an individuality that you will not find in any other store in the city.

Prices from $10.00 to $30.00

We invite you to come in and see them.

The Model Clothing and Dry Goods Store.

The HERALD

Entered as Second-Class mail matter at the Greencastle, Ind., postoffice.

Charles J. Arnold, Proprietor.

Terms of Subscription:
By Carriers.....10 Cents a Week
Single Copies.....2 Cents Each
By Mail.....$3.00 a Year

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON.
Except Sunday by the Herald-Democrat Publishing Company, 17 and 19 South Jackson St., Greencastle, Ind.

PHONE 65.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

STATE TICKET.

United States Senator

B. F. SHIVELY.

Secretary of State

HOMER L. COOK.

Auditor of State

DALE J. CRITTENBERGER.

Treasurer of State

GEORGE BITTLER.

Attorney General

RICHARD MILBURN.

Clerk of the Supreme Court

J. FRED FRANCE.

State Geologist

EDWARD BARRETT.

State Superintendent

CHARLES A. GREATHOUSE.

Judge of the Supreme Court

MOSES B. LAIRY.

Judges of the Appellate Court

JOSEPH G. BEACH.

FREDERICK S. CALDWELL.

MILTON B. HETTEL.

EDWARD W. FELT.

FRANK M. POWERS.

FIFTH CONGRESSIONAL

DISTRICT TICKET.

For Congress—Ralph W. Moss.

PUTNAM COUNTY TICKET.

For Prosecuting Attorney—

William M. Sutherland.

For Sheriff—Theodore Boen.

For Representative—Andrew

Durham.

For Auditor—Joe M. Allen.

For Clerk—Harry Moore.

For Assessor—S. V. Vermilion.

For Treasurer—H. H. Bunyan.

For Coroner—Dr. C. T. Zaring.

For Surveyor—Arthur Plummer.

For Recorder—John Shannon.

For Commissioner—Ed. District—Charles Daggy.

For Commissioner—3rd. District—Reason Larkin.

TOWNSHIP TICKET.

For Trustee—Harry Talbott.

For Assessor—William Jamison.

For Constable—Crawford W.

Crawley, Lute Van Fossen.

For Justice of the Peace—

Phillip Frank, John Brannan.

For Members Advisory Board

—Marion Farrow, William A.

Grogan, James M. Wood.

Trustees' Notices

Madison Township.

I will be at my residence in Madison township on Monday and Friday of each week to transact the business of my office.

J. W. KNAUER, Trustee.

I will be at my home in Mill Creek township on Wednesday and Saturday of each week to transact the business of my office.

ERNEST KIVETT, Trustee.

Jackson Township.

I will be at my office in Jackson township every Friday to transact the business of my office as trustee.

BENJAMIN WALLS, Trustee.

I will be at my residence each Tuesday and Saturday of each week to transact the business of my office.

OLIVER STRINGER, Trustee.

Monroe Township.

I will be at Bainbridge each Wednesday to transact the business of my office.

D. V. ETCHESON, Trustee.

Floyd Township.

I will be at my residence in Floyd township on each Wednesday to transact the business of my office.

FRED TODD, Trustee.

Marion Township.

I will be at my residence in Marion township on Friday of each week and Tuesday in Fillmore to transact the business of my office.

OTTO RECTOR, Trustee.

Correspondence

STILESVILLE.

Dr. King and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. James McAninch.

Mrs. John Rhoades, of California, is visiting Ruth Rector.

Dr. and Mrs. Hicks and sons visited their father, Merton Hicks, near Mount Meridian Sunday.

J. L. Osborn and Julian Ray have entered State Normal for a year's work.

Mrs. Frank Lineberry visited her son, Harry, at Indianapolis last week. The Social Helpers of the Christian Church met with Mrs. Robert Pounds Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Veto Curtis and daughter are visiting her mother, Mrs. Crawford.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Roberts spent Sunday with Harry Stevenson.

Wm. Appleby and sister visited their nephew, Callie McCleod, at Anso Friday.

On account of the remodeling of the Christian church their Sunday school will have union Sunday school with the M. E. church for a few Sundays. Rev. Brown filled the pulpit there Sunday morning and evening and his sermons were highly appreciated by all present.

Mrs. S. G. York and Mrs. Oral Kelley visited A. E. York at Cloverdale Wednesday.

Mrs. John Fruth, of Hazelwood, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Phin Pritchett Friday.

Miss Maybrite spent the week-end with homefolks at Bloomington.

Mrs. Mary Webster and children are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lineberry.

Mrs. Everett Hume and children, of Oklahoma, after making a short visit with relatives here, left Wednesday for Pittsburg, Pa., where she will spend the winter with her parents.

Allen Heavensridge, of Indianapolis, visited friends here Monday.

Arthur Rose has been dangerously ill for two weeks from a wound on his knee caused from a cut with a knife.

A physician from Indianapolis has been here twice and lanced the knee but his condition still remains serious.

Mrs. Bradley, of Indianapolis, who was until a few years ago a resident of this place, is the guest of Mrs. Laura Miller.

Samuel Lewis died at his home Sunday morning. He had been in failing health for over a year and three weeks ago was stricken with paralysis. He leaves a wife, two sons and two daughters, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. Funeral was conducted by Rev. Reuben Master from the Baptist church. Interment at Brick Chapel cemetery.

FINCASTLE.

Several from here attended the sale at Fred Guillemin's last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Terry spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Terry near Rosedale.

Mr. and Mrs. Milt Gardner called on Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Brothers on Thursday evening.

Several from here attended the horse races and motorcycle races at Mort Skander's Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Steele and family of Crawfordville, Mr. and Mrs. James Darnell of Rosedale and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Steele of Racoon visited Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Steele and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Brothers and Mrs. James Mandelco called on Mr. and Mrs. Joe Everman Saturday evening.

Mrs. Bertha Hunt and children, of Rockville, spent Sunday with Mrs. James Mandelco.

Will Everman and family spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Everman.

Neal and Glenn Everman, Walter Dodd, Cecil Stoner and Orville Everman attended the ball game at Ladoga Sunday afternoon.

Elmer Watson and family called on Dave Brothers and family Sunday.

Neal, Glenn and Olive Everman called on Ethel and Earl Watson Monday evening.

Several from here attended the box supper at the Goshlin schoolhouse Friday evening.

Mrs. James Mandelco left Monday for her home in Oklahoma City.

REELSVILLE.

The ladies of the L. E. C. were entertained at the home of Mrs. Anna Polium Wednesday, Sept. 30th.

After a sumptuous dinner served at high noon of all the many good things too numerous to mention the afternoon was spent socially.

A musical program was given in which Miss Myrtle Herbert and the little Misses Polium gave some good selections that were appreciated by all present.

The club ladies left at a late hour feeling that they had spent a pleasant

When It's Job Printing.

When you want Job Printing Phone 65.

HERALD OFFICE

C. J. ARNOLD, PROP.

Best Equipped Printing Plant In Greencastle.

Newest type faces, largest assortment of fine papers, and expert workmen assure satisfaction.

Special Notice To Taxpayers.

Many will question the amount of their taxes and ask concerning their personal property assessments and land appraisement. Mistakes will occur where the assessment of property and the extending and collecting of taxes are done by as many different officers.

The Treasurer and Auditor will cheerfully correct all mistakes for which they are responsible and the county assessor will explain the assessment of personal property and where possible adjust it in error.

Time is at hand for the paying of Fall taxes. Monday, November 2, is the last day on which taxes can be paid, without the penalty being attached. You soon will find yourself in the Treasurer's office in a great crowd, awaiting to get to pay windows. Some will be in a hurry to make certain trains to get home. Way delay and cause yourself as well as the treasurer so much inconvenience?

If the second installment of taxes is not paid within the limit set by law, the taxes become due and delinquent and with penalty is extended by the Auditor and charged to the Treasurer. The state is interested in this extension and the Auditor and Treasurer are both personally liable for any penalties that might be refunded.

Under no circumstances can the Treasurer alter the duplicate. He can make no reduction in taxes and he can not refund money once paid in. Errors must be corrected through the Auditor's office.

As the Treasurer can not know the location of each person's property, tax payers should designate the property on which they wish to pay, and see that all property is included in their receipt. If they have land in more than one township or corporation, or desire to pay taxes on lands or lots not in their name, call the Treasurer's attention to the matter, carefully examine receipts, see if they describe all property (personal and real) and are otherwise correct before leaving the office, and if any errors are evident have them corrected at once.

The Tax Duplicate is not a transfer book and when, for any year, the Tax Duplicate is made with reference to the property on the first day of March said year the duplicate remains forever unchanged as to showing of property in whose books or prompt recording of deeds to the contrary notwithstanding.

Property will appear in same name of the payment of the second installment as for first. Assignees, Guardians, Administrators and others who pay taxes on property in trust and persons whose taxes are complicated, such as undivided estates, etc., are earnestly requested to settle such taxes before the last few days, as it requires considerable time to make divisions and separate receipts. Thus avoid mistakes which might happen during the rush of the last few days of taxing.

"All property, both Real and Personal, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes, penalties, interest and cost charged to the owner thereof in such county, and no partial payment of any such taxes penalties, interest or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid, which lien shall in no wise be erected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property, and shall attach on the first day of April annually for the taxes of such year."

—From Section 173, Acts 1881.

Special Notice.

All Ditch Taxes and Street Improvements must be called for separately.

The taxpayer often has personal property and poll assessed to him separately from his real estate especially when the land is in joint title, and accordingly must have a receipt therefor.

Delinquent taxes must be paid before the current tax.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for penalties and charges on delinquent taxes, resulting from omission of the person, paying such tax to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Very Respectfully,

H. H. RUNYAN, Treasurer Putnam County.

At Friday, D., Sept. 25; at W. Sept. 25.

Toned Up Whole System.

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done more for me than I ever dared hope for," writes Mrs. Esther Mac Baker, Spencerport, N. Y. "I used several bottles of these tablets a few months ago. They not only cured me of bilious attacks, sick headaches and that tired out feeling, but toned up my whole system." For sale by all dealers.

TOO MUCH.

The Way was Long and the Hunger Great But—"Principles is Principles!"

-The New York Tribune says that at 10:30 a man boarded a train at a station on the Pennsylvania Railroad, carrying with him a small umbrella tied up with a shoe string, and in the other an old value that looked as if it might have been with Lee at Appomattox. He sat down near the door, deposited his property beside him, and beckoned to a train boy who was just then passing with a basket.

"Get anything for eat, young fellow?"

"Sandwiches—ham, chicken and tongue."

"Are they fresh?"

"Certainly."

"There ain't no 'certainty' about it," objected the old man. "The sandwich business is mighty ticklish in hot weather."

"They're fresh," said the boy, impatiently, "only keep made an hour."

"I'd rather like a chicken sandwich if I knowed I wouldn't draw a wing."

"No wings, sir; all clear meat."

"Spoke you let me see one of them sandwiches?"

"Can't, sir; they're all wrapped up. Take one!"

"How much do you ask for 'em?"

"Ten cents."

"I don't want a dozen, how much for one?"

"Ten cents."

"Great day 'a mornin'!" gasped the old man. "Ten cents for two bites of bread an' a smell of chicken. I'm hungry enough to eat a pickaxe, but I'm game, an' I tell you what, before I pay ten cents for one little sandwich, I'll set here and roll my eyes and swear, all the way to Bayliffmer."

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.

First Boarder (dramatically)—Well, I see we're going to have a splash again tomorrow.

Second Boarder—How can you tell?

First Boarder—Why, the hired man is out there cutting the front lawn.

A Comfortable Seat.

A certain stately, middle-aged lady has the habit of nodding on to her waitresses phrases out of their national or der, thereby not infrequently electrifying her hostess. Recently she was greatly surprised to have the following simple statement of hers greeted with shouts of laughter: "When I arrived at the house, there was the minister sitting on a chair and three ladies."

Too True.

"No one understands me!" he groaned, "no one on earth."

It is the old story wrong from many a tortured, youthful heart. The offender is generally mistaken, but the pain is no less poignant. Yet in this instance the man's complaint was true. Nobody on earth could understand him.

For he was an announcer of trains at the Union Depot.

Their Latest Game.

A busy mother who was distracted by the noise in the nursery hastened to the room and said to her little daughter:

"Minnie, what do you mean by shooting and screaming? Play quietly, like Tommy. See, he doesn't make a sound."

"Of course he doesn't," said the little girl. "That is our game. He is papa coming home late, and I am you."

A Politician.

"I'm afraid I'll never be able to teach you anything, Maggie," was the despairing utterance of a Trenton woman to a new Irish domestic. "Don't you know that you should always hand me notes and cards on a silver?"

"Sure, mum, I know," answered Maggie. "but I didn't know you did."

Fierce, All Right.

"Now," said the teacher, who had been describing the habits of bears, "what is the fiercest animal in the polar regions, Johnny?"

"Why-er," stammered Johnny. "Come, don't you remember? The pole!"

"Oh, sure! The pole cat."

Wanted a Pusher.

"What did the new neighbors come to borrow now?"

"They wanted the lawn mower."

"Is that all?"

"That was all they spoke about, but I think from the day they stood around they liked to have borrowed my husband to run it."

An Observant Youth.

Sunday-school Teacher—What was Adam's punishment for eating the forbidden fruit, Johnnie?

Johnnie (confidently)—He had it marry Eve.

WE HAVE HELPED OTHERS We Can Help You

By advancing what money you may need for the spring season, or to square up any little bills that may be owing. We have no ironbound rule or contract, in fact, you will be surprised to find how easily you can procure a loan and your friends need never know. Phone or mail. Applications receive prompt attention. Straight time loans to farmers.

OFFICE DAY THURSDAY.

THE BRAZIL LOAN COMPANY
CORNER VINE AND WASHINGTON STS.

Beer for the Patient

The increasing tendency of physicians to prescribe beer for convalescents is ample proof of the purity and tonic properties of this great malt beverage. Beer is the ideal diet for the patient because it supplies the body with pure food of the best quality in a partly digested form.

Beer is a tonic of pleasant flavor and beneficial to both the weak and the strong. When you drink beer you are not only drinking an appetizing beverage but you are nourishing your body with a food prepared from the most wholesome grains by Nature's own chemistry.

Ask your doctor why he prescribes beer for his patients.

INDIANA BREWERS ASSOCIATION

ENGRAVED GREETING CARDS

For Christmas & New Years

These Cards are now in very general use in polite circles and of course are greatly to be preferred over the time worn, garish styles of the past.

We are now displaying an unusually attractive line, also a stylish display of

MONOGRAM STATIONERY.

In Plain or Gift Boxes.

For HARDCOURT & CO. LEADING ENGRAVERS

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Herald Office

For HARDCOURT & CO. LEADING ENGRAVERS

LOUISVILLE, KY.

Why Not Publish It?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." For sale by all dealers.

Try a HERALD Want Ad the Next Time

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the Judge of the Circuit Court of Putnam County, State of Indiana, Administrator of the estate of Julia F. Owens, late of Putnam County, Indiana, deceased.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

Dated this 23rd day of September, 1914.

ERASMUS OWENS, Administrator.

W. H. H. Cullen, Atty.

THE HEART BREAKER

Copyright, Puck
By DONALD A. KAHN.

BURLESON gave his four-in-hand a last nervous tug and reached in the wrong bureau drawer for a handkerchief. He wiggled into his ulster; his right fist caught the sleeve lining and ripped it on the way down. He ran-sacked his brain for some excuse that he could "phone her, but couldn't think of anything that would sound plausible. So he squared his shoulders, grabbed his derby, and bolted.

When he had walked the ten blocks in the crisp air, and as he started up the steps of her father's house, his fear had no whit abated. Have you ever been about to propose to a girl? Then you can sympathize with Billy Burleson.

The girl herself admitted him. She was decidedly a pretty girl. As Burleson looked at her he realized that fact fully—but it did not tend to reassure him of her bright blue eyes, of him.

His realization of her beauty—of the glory of her auburn hair, of the perfection of her profile—did not assuage his fear. As he took her hand she trembled.

They seated themselves on a leather settee. Postponing the ordeal, but prolonging his agony, he talked to her of books, of music, of art, of economics, of politics, of history, of science, of religion, of the theatre. And all the while in his heart he was afraid.

At last, inspired by a bit of courage, he took her hand. "Alice," he said, "I've been calling on you regularly for three years."

He felt his backbone chill. He continued: "During these three years I've learned to know you; and knowing you is nothing less than loving you." He had to admit to himself that this was pretty fair. "I love you, Alice dear. I'm in love with you."

He watched her face and kissed her cheek. "I want you to marry me!" he concluded, rather boldly.

Then he became afraid in dead earnest. He awaited her answer as a prisoner hangs on the verdict of a jury.

When she spoke at last, her voice was marvelously tender. "Oh, Billy! I'm so sorry!" she said. "I'm not in love with you, Billy. I do not care for you in fact in that way!"

"Don't you think you could learn to care for me, Alice?" he asked hopefully.

"Never, Billy," she declared, positively. "Oh, we've been such good friends, you and I, these three years. I will be a real sister to you, Billy dear."

He swallowed, and sighed audibly. "I'll never recover from this," he stated sadly.

"You'll not take to drink, Billy?" she asked, deeply concerned.

"Will you promise me?" Dutifully he promised.

"And you'll not allow this to make you bitter in your heart?"

"I'll try, Alice," he murmured. Hastily and silently he slipped into his ulster with the torn sleeve, secured his derby, grasped her lovely white hand in farewell, and slipped out into the cold, black night.

Half an hour later he walked into his bachelor apartment and switched on the light. He stepped to the library table and hunted around in the dust. He picked up the morning paper and re-read a thumber paragraph in the Questions and Answers on "Advice to the Worried."

BILLY:—If you have been calling on the young lady steadily for three years she expects you to ask her hand in marriage. A man wrongs a girl when he monopolizes her time without having matrimony in view. It is your duty to propose to her, even if, as you say, you prefer a bachelor's life to a benedict's.

He lighted his briar and walked to the mantel. He looked at his grinning reflection in the mirror. "Geel! But you're a lucky dog," he told himself. "You sure are a luck dog!"

EDUCATION

Boys are hard to educate; what's good for a boy is so apt to be less than his father can pay for and more than his mother thinks his constitution will stand. The public schools are about right for boys, but most people prefer private schools, where their sons won't be grieved if they travel in special cars and have a valet or two apiece.

Girls are easier—for the reason, no doubt, that a woman knows how to play bridge and smoke cigarettes can always make a figure socially. In addition, however, girls from a first-class finishing-school are often able to tell good smoking-room stories.

GOING SOME

"My uncle used to smoke his pipe, and blow smoke-rings that would float across the room and ring the door-knob."

"My uncle," said the other liar, dreamily, "used to blow some that would ring the door-bell."

THE HAPPY FAMILY

Mr. Scraggington—Only two weeks ago I paid for a new spring suit for you.

Mrs. Scraggington—Yes, I know you did! And you sneezed as loudly as if you were paying for a lawsuit.

For Sale or Exchange

The "pulling power" of the Herald Want Ad column is unquestioned. It is a sales medium of the highest efficiency.

WANTED

The cost is very trifling compared to the results obtained—One-half cent a word. No advertisements for less than 10-cents.

Lost, Strayed, Found

For quick results try a Herald Want Ad. They are wonders.

"No Hunting ON This Farm"

Do you intend to post your farm with "No Hunting" signs this winter. If you do you can get signs at this office—Printed on either cloth or cardboard.

Cloth Signs—10c each.
Cardboard Signs—5c each.

[All other kinds of signs at same prices.]

The Herald Office
Printers & Publishers.

200 SNAKES MAKE VOYAGE

The British Bark, in New York After One Hundred-and-Fifteen-Day Trip.

FIVE YAKS RUN AMUCK
Lascars, Chinese Wed Hindu Crew Add to Danger by Fighting.

New York.—Two hundred deadly East Indian snakes overrunning the ship, five heat-crazed yaks doing everything but climb aloft and a crew of thirty-five Lascars, Hindus and Chinese threatening every minute to cut one another's throats—such was the combination which added ten years to the age of Capt. Grant of the Brilliant, a four-masted British bark.

The Brilliant is now in New York Harbor after a voyage of 115 days from Hongkong. Life began to be just one strenuous minute after another almost before Victoria Island had faded over the horizon, the excitement continuing unabated until the Jersey coast was sighted. With the Brilliant safely secured to her pier in New York, Capt. Grant and his officers heaved a sigh of relief which might have been heard a mile away. The captain's hair had turned gray and his weather-beaten features had several more wrinkles as a result of his experience.

The Brilliant, carrying Standard Oil stores, had an uneventful voyage outward bound to Hongkong and Kobe. She carried an able crew of Swedes and Norwegians, but they tired of the long grind and deserted the ship between watches a few hours after the vessel dropped anchor in Kobe Harbor. With the holds filled with Japanese merchandise, Capt. Grant was compelled to sign a nondescript crew composed of no less than ten nationalities in order to man his vessel for the homeward bound trip to New York. He cleared at Kobe, stopped at Higo, and made Hongkong in two weeks. The entire crew deserted at this port and the seamen signed in their place represented, said Capt. Grant, the scum of the far Eastern ports.

Squared away to the southward with the Straits of Sundae as the objective, the Brilliant became the theater for a series of events which made sleep a matter of three winks at a time for the officers. First of all its "seamen" had never seen any more experience than would be necessary to handle a rowboat. When most of the men were suffering from seasickness and lying in their bunks a big Lascar deserted his post at the wheel and made for the forward hatchway like a streak of brown. Two seconds elapsed and he came up from below with the entire crew at his heels. Ill or well, they were in the rigging at one leap, and all gesticulated wildly as they directed the attention of Capt. Grant to several squirreling objects on the deck.

Four boxes filled with cobras and other poisonous reptiles had broken loose from their fastenings. Two hundred snakes had been given the liberty of the Brilliant. The Orientals would not go near the snakes, and Capt. Grant and his officers were compelled to kill them with clubs. Snakes appeared from hiding places, however, for three weeks after the boxes had been broken, and until the crew was sure that the last had been done away with they persisted in sleeping in the rigging. They had to make themselves fast with rope during rough weather, but it was better than sleeping below, with the possibility of waking up and finding a fullgrown cobra as a bed-fellow.

After passing through the Straits of Sundae the five Yaks on board began showing signs of suffering from the heat. As the Brilliant hovered near the "line" they went crazy one by one. "They couldn't do it in a bunch," said Capt. Grant. "They had to do it one at a time in order to prolong our agony."

The snakes and the heat-crazed yaks had practically scared the crew out of their wits before the "line" was well to the north. About the time the last yak had been killed and cast overboard the Lascars and the Chinese engaged in a pitched battle.

The Hindus and others took sides in the argument. Their fights were a daily feature until after the Cape had been rounded. Instead of trying to prevent trouble, knowing that any interference on his part would only complicate matters, Capt. Grant allowed them to fight it out among themselves. At times, however, the friction assumed a serious turn, when some of the men displayed knives. Although they never actually carried out their threats to cut each others' throats, the situation continued to be tense and called for the utmost diplomacy on the part of the officers.

When the Brilliant made fast in New York Harbor, Capt. Grant withdrew his surveillance with the remark that they could go as far as they like in marrying each other's countenances, but that he would see each man hand and foot and cast him overboard if they so much as made a dent in the polished deck of the Brilliant.

HAS WEASEL'S BODY CLAWS LIKE CAT'S
Connersville, Ind.—Will Hanson and Fred Volk, are displaying a strange animal which they captured in a thicket north of the town. The animal is the size of a rat, with a body like a weasel, a head like a squirrel and claws longer and sharper than those of a house cat. It has thin, light brown hair, is very quiet and sleeps most of the time.

DOUBLY PROVEN.

Greencastle Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

This Greencastle citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. George W. Wood, farmer, Greencastle, says: "For the past ten or twelve years I had disordered kidneys. I suffered from severe pains in my back and about four years ago I was in bad shape. I was hardly able to bear the pain in my back and a too frequent desire to pass the kidney secretions caused me annoyance. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones, Stevens Co.'s Drug store and less than one box relieved me. I am now well."

Confirmed Proof.
Later Mr. Wood said: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy. I willingly confirm all I said in my former public statement, recommending them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Wood had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

NOTICE OF EXECUTOR'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE.

The undersigned, executor of the last will of Mary E. Etter, deceased, hereby gives notice that by virtue of the power by said will conferred, he will at the hour of 10 o'clock, a. m. on the 27th day of October, 1914, at the Foster Company's store in Manhattan, Indiana, and from day to day thereafter until sold, offer for sale at private sale, all the interest of said decedent in and to the following described real estate, in Putnam County, Indiana, to-wit:

The south half of lots numbers ninety-two (92) and ninety-three (93) in the Town of Manhattan, Indiana.

A part of the east half of the southeast quarter of section twenty-five (25), Township thirteen (13) north, Range five (5) west, in Putnam County, Indiana, and a part of the southwest quarter of fractional section thirty (30) Township thirteen (13) north, Range four (4) west in said county and state. Bounded as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the northeast corner of said southeast quarter of said section twenty-five (25) and running thence west three (3) chains and seventy-nine (79) links. Thence south 3 degrees east twenty-five (25) chains' and forty-nine (49) links, thence north fifty-seven degrees east one (1) chain and twenty (20) links, thence south 68 degrees east three (3) chains and six (6) links to the township line, thence north with said township line two (2) chains and sixty-two (62) links, thence east seven (7) chains and seventy-seven (77) links, thence north twenty-one (21) chains and thirty-five (35) links to the north line of said southwest quarter of said fractional section thirty (30), thence west seven (7) chains and seventy-seven (77) links to the township line, thence north with said township line to the place of beginning containing twenty-six (26) acres more or less.

Said sale will be made subject to the approval of the Putnam Circuit Court, for not less than the full appraised value of said real estate, and upon the following terms and conditions: All of said purchase money shall be paid in CASH.

JOHN L. FELLOWS, Executor.
44 W Sept 25th Posters

DR. O. F. OVERSTREET
—Dentist—
Office in Bence Building, South Vine Street, Greencastle, Ind.

W. W. TUCKER
Physician and Surgeon.
Office Vine street, between Washington and Walnut St., Greencastle, Ind.

W. M. MCGAUGHEY
Physician and Surgeon.
Telephone: Office, 327; Res., 339.
Office in Evans' Block, No. 24 South Jackson street.

Residence, corner Bloomington and Seminary streets.

OSTEOPATHY.
H. L. Betzner, resident osteopath, graduate in three years' course at Kirksville, Mo., member of staff of Spaulhurst Osteopaths.

Lady attendant. Phone 226 day or night. Donner Block, Greencastle.

CERTIFIED CHECKS

Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Company.
By WILLIAM SANORD

KENYON arrived in Seekonk from his motor-cycle trip through the Southern States with exactly four dollars and eighty cents in his clothes. Wishing to cycle a bit over the fine roads, and still having four days of his vacation remaining, he bethought himself to dispose of all ready cash posed in an inside pocket, and carefully drew it forth.

From this envelope he drew two certified checks. They were payable to himself and were for twenty-five dollars each. Kenyon had filled them out and had them certified at his own bank in Swansea, Massachusetts, in the very case that he should run short of ready cash.

Now he patted the checks fondly, sighed in deep relief, and agreed with himself to dispose of all ready cash upon his person ere slumber closed his eyes, and to hike to the nearest bank in the morning and partly cash in.

Being a young man who made it a point of doing everything he agreed to, even when the agreement was made with himself, Kenyon made the present case no exception. He dined, paid for his room and breakfast at the hotel in advance, and put the balance of his cash into a theatre ticket and several mint juleps. As he passed into slumber that night his face wore a smile of deep content, for the two certified checks were peeping at him from the envelope near by.

The next day dawned fair and clear, and just cool enough to make motor-cycling exhilarating. Kenyon enjoyed his breakfast leisurely, also the newspaper. He noted that the stock he had been tipped off to buy two weeks before was down fifteen points, and credited himself mentally with the amount he had saved by not investing. He lighted a good cigar, smiled pleasantly at the waiter instead of giving him a tip, and passed out into the sunshine. Two minutes later he presented himself to the paying-teller at the Peoples' Accommodation Bank. "I would like," he said casually, "to cash a certified check. It's payable to myself."

As he spoke he tossed one of the checks carelessly through the opening into the teller's cage.

The teller was a lean, lank individual with a chronic expression of weariness. He glanced at the check, and he had landed from the toss, and said in a voice bettling his expression: "Sorry, but you'll have to be have the name of one of our depositors on the check before we can do anything for you."

Kenyon was visibly nettled. "But the check is certified," he replied quickly. "I had it certified myself. If I knew one of your depositors well enough to have him put his name on my checks what the dickens would I want a certified check for?"

The logic of this remark failed to stir any visible signs of interest in the teller's face. Instead he asked: "Who are you?"

"I'm Kirk Kenyon," that individual replied promptly. "And as I said, I had that check certified myself, and of course it's clear that the money has already been deducted from my account. What have you to risk?"

The teller carefully rested his elbow on the polished woodwork in front of the steel grating. He slipped his chin into the palm of his right hand and regarded Kenyon with a look which bespoke neither love nor implicit trust.

"In case," he said, rather slowly, "that you do not fully understand why we cannot cash this check I will try to explain the matter to you. In the first place, for all we know, this certification may be a forgery and the name fictitious. Even allowing that there was such a person as the one whose name is signed to this check, and that he had money in this bank, in Swansea, the check and certification might both be forgeries. In case the check was perfectly good, however, it might still have been found by someone, or perhaps stolen. For this reason we could not even accept it for collection, giving you a receipt, until we assured ourselves it was good. Again, allowing that you are Kirk Kenyon, and that you have an account at this bank, how are we to know it? Even if we did know it, and cashed the check, what assurance would we have that you didn't go right across the street and telephone your bank to stop payment on the check? And finally, if we had absolute assurance that you were perfectly honest and we cashed this check for you, and you should drop dead, and the bank should hear about it before the check reached them, they would at once credit your account with the twenty-five dollars and cancel the check. The whole thing is perfectly clear to you now, isn't it?" The teller smiled a warped, automatic smile.

"I think," said Kenyon, "that if you should cash the check I might drop dead. Clear? Why, it's clear as mud." The teller's face annoyed him, and he shifted his gaze a bit and looked into the smiling countenance of young Billy Baxter, whom he had defeated in the finals of the open tennis tournament. Simultaneously two strong right hands gripped each other. "Great Scott, old chap!" exclaimed Kenyon. "I knew you were located somewhere out this way, but not exactly where. What are you doing?"

"Working in this bank," answered Baxter. "Just been out on an errand. You see, it's a sort of family bank."

CERTIFIED CHECKS

Copyright, The Frank A. Munsey Company.
By WILLIAM SANORD

KENYON arrived in Seekonk from his motor-cycle trip through the Southern States with exactly four dollars and eighty cents in his clothes. Wishing to cycle a bit over the fine roads, and still having four days of his vacation remaining, he bethought himself to dispose of all ready cash posed in an inside pocket, and carefully drew it forth.

From this envelope he drew two certified checks. They were payable to himself and were for twenty-five dollars each. Kenyon had filled them out and had them certified at his own bank in Swansea, Massachusetts, in the very case that he should run short of ready cash.

Now he patted the checks fondly, sighed in deep relief, and agreed with himself to dispose of all ready cash upon his person ere slumber closed his eyes, and to hike to the nearest bank in the morning and partly cash in.

Being a young man who made it a point of doing everything he agreed to, even when the agreement was made with himself, Kenyon made the present case no exception. He dined, paid for his room and breakfast at the hotel in advance, and put the balance of his cash into a theatre ticket and several mint juleps. As he passed into slumber that night his face wore a smile of deep content, for the two certified checks were peeping at him from the envelope near by.

The next day dawned fair and clear, and just cool enough to make motor-cycling exhilarating. Kenyon enjoyed his breakfast leisurely, also the newspaper. He noted that the stock he had been tipped off to buy two weeks before was down fifteen points, and credited himself mentally with the amount he had saved by not investing.

He lighted a good cigar, smiled pleasantly at the waiter instead of giving him a tip, and passed out into the sunshine. Two minutes later he presented himself to the paying-teller at the Peoples' Accommodation Bank. "I would like," he said casually, "to cash a certified check. It's payable to myself."

As he spoke he tossed one of the checks carelessly through the opening into the teller's cage.

The teller was a lean, lank individual with a chronic expression of weariness. He glanced at the check, and he had landed from the toss, and said in a voice bettling his expression: "Sorry, but you'll have to be have the name of one of our depositors on the check before we can do anything for you."

Kenyon was visibly nettled. "But the check is certified," he replied quickly. "I had it certified myself. If I knew one of your depositors well enough to have him put his name on my checks what the dickens would I want a certified check for?"

The logic of this remark failed to stir any visible signs of interest in the teller's face. Instead he asked: "Who are you?"

"I'm Kirk Kenyon," that individual replied promptly. "And as I said, I had that check certified myself, and of course it's clear that the money has already been deducted from my account. What have you to risk?"

The teller carefully rested his elbow on the polished woodwork in front of the steel grating. He slipped his chin into the palm of his right hand and regarded Kenyon with a look which bespoke neither love nor implicit trust.

"In case," he said, rather slowly, "that you do not fully understand why we cannot cash this check I will try to explain the matter to you. In the first place, for all we know, this certification may be a forgery and the name fictitious. Even allowing that there was such a person as the one whose name is signed to this check, and that he had money in this bank, in Swansea, the check and certification might both be forgeries. In case the check was perfectly good, however, it might still have been found by someone, or perhaps stolen. For this reason we could not even accept it for collection, giving you a receipt, until we assured ourselves it was good. Again, allowing that you are Kirk Kenyon, and that you have an account at this bank, how are we to know it? Even if we did know it, and cashed the check, what assurance would we have that you didn't go right across the street and telephone your bank to stop payment on the check? And finally, if we had absolute assurance that you were perfectly honest and we cashed this check for you, and you should drop dead, and the bank should hear about it before the check reached them, they would at once credit your account with the twenty-five dollars and cancel the check. The whole thing is perfectly clear to you now, isn't it?" The teller smiled a warped, automatic smile.

"I think," said Kenyon, "that if you should cash the check I might drop dead. Clear? Why, it's clear as mud." The teller's face annoyed him, and he shifted his gaze a bit and looked into the smiling countenance of young Billy Baxter, whom he had defeated in the finals of the open tennis tournament. Simultaneously two strong right hands gripped each other. "Great Scott, old chap!" exclaimed Kenyon. "I knew you were located somewhere out this way, but not exactly where. What are you doing?"

"Working in this bank," answered Baxter. "Just been out on an errand. You see, it's a sort of family bank."

My father is treasurer, my brother is cashier, my cousin is bookkeeper, and I'm a clerk. What are you doing?"

"Trying to cash a certified check payable to myself," replied Kenyon. "Can I?"

"One or a hundred!" said Baxter. The teller transposed his face into an almost human expression, straightened up, and passed several crisp bills through the grating to Kenyon.

"Of course," he said pleasantly, "the chance are ninety-nine to a hundred that a certified check is good—that's the advantage in having them certified."

"Do you know what I hate?" asked Elishbener of his friend, who had just treated him. "Relatives! Relatives are great for making trouble for you."

"My brother Bill, for example, comes to pay us a visit now and then, and invariably kicks up a disturbance. There's the conductor on the accommodation train. We can't exist in our suburb without the good will of that conductor. He throws the newspaper off his train for us every afternoon. He brings the milk in the morning."

"The first thing my brother did the last time he came was to have a quarrel with that conductor, of all people! He was sore because the conductor had made him get off in a muddy spot. We would never think of grumbling about such a trifle as that!"

"Then there's old Crushton! My brother got into an argument with that man and actually said to him: 'My brother will fix you all right!'"

"A nice job for me—fixing Crushton! I'm afraid to look at Crushton for fear of offending him. He often licks two or three fellows just for exercising."

"Next, my brother Bill proceeded to flirt with Queenie Simpleton, the very last thing in the world we wanted any of our family to be guilty of. Queenie has a one-eyed sweetheart who is crazy, and when he gets jealous he burns the offender out of house and home. Every time I hear any one striking a match now I jump and run. I think it's Crooks preparing to burn down my barn."

"Bill found fault with the man who owns the road sprinkler for missing a few days when he was soused, so now we are choking with dust all the time. The man was the only union sprinkler in Edenville."

"The ice-man happened to stop to watch the game for a few innings as he passed the ball grounds, and then short weighted us a couple of pounds to make up for what melted while the game was in progress. Bill took it upon himself to whirl into the ice-man. Now we get no ice at all."

"Having made things as uncomfortable as possible for us in all quarters, Bill packed up and left us, destitute of ice, milk, newspapers—everything but enemies."

Against an old Georgia negro, charged with stealing a pig, the evidence was absolutely conclusive, and the judge who knew the old dandy well, said reproachfully:

"Now, uncle why did you steal that pig?"

"Bekase, mah pooh family wuz starvin', yo' honnoh," whimpered the old man.

"Family starving!" cried the judge. "But they told me you keep five dogs. How is that uncle?"

"Why, yo' honnoh," said uncle, reprovingly, "you wouldn't 'speak mah family to eat dem dogs!"

HIS METHOD
An Irishman out of work applied to the "boss" of a large repair shop in Detroit. When the Celt had stated his sundry and divers qualifications for a "job," the superintendent began quizzing him a bit. Starting quite at random he asked:

"Do you know anything about carpentry?"

"Shure!"

"Do you know how to make a Venetian blind?"

"Shure!"

"How would you do it?"

"Shure, I'd poke me finger in his eye!"

A BUSY DOCTOR
"Hello! Is that Doctor Glizzards of fice?"

"Yes."

"I'd like to speak to the doctor."

"He's busy just now."

An hour passed.

"No; this is his office, but he's busy."

Lapse of another hour.

"Hello! I want to talk to Doctor Glizzard."

"Hello! Doctor Glizzard?"

"He's busy."

"Busy? What in thunder keeps him so busy?"

"He's playing golf."

THE BUTTON
The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked, as she began to inspect a basket of buttons:

"You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds. Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife with a sigh. "Well, all the buttons were found in the contribution box, and thought I might as well make some use of them. What—must you go? Well, good by. Come again, soon."

GODS
"My Steady looks exactly like Apollo!" sighed the sentimental one. "That ain't narten!" sniffed the lass of the glove counter. "My beau is the original for the Peerless Perflection Dress shirt ads."

The Progressive Ticket

State Ticket.
U. S. Senator—Albert J. Beveridge.
Secretary of State—William A. Pierson.

PERSONAL

The Herald will appreciate reports of social events, accounts of visits or any other items of local interest. Phone 65.

Robert Graham was in Indianapolis on business today.

Chester Day, of Mt. Meridian, was here on business today.

Thomas Hurst, of Mt. Meridian, was a visitor in the city today.

F. G. Knetzer was in Conesville on business this morning.

Joseph Baker was in Indianapolis on business today.

Miss Verna Stoner spent the day in Indianapolis.

The Boston Club will meet on Friday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Belle Carver.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Arnold left today for Chicago where they will remain for a couple of days.

The condition of Mrs. H. C. Rudisill who is taking treatment at a sanitarium at French Lick, is reported to be much improved. She will remain there for several days treatment.

L. O. Kelley has installed a new moving picture machine in his picture show. The new machine is a handsome outfit and is one of the best motion picture devices made.

Mrs. James B. Nelson will entertain at Bridge tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Douglas of Logansport, who is here the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Donner.

The Greencastle Court of the Tribe of Ben-Hur will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in their hall. There will be an initiation of candidates and all members are urged to be present.

Thad Allee, the son of John P. Allee of this city, underwent an operation at the St. Vincent's Hospital in Indianapolis today for hernia. He was accompanied there by his brother, John H. Allee and Dr. W. W. Tucker. His father is in the St. Vincent's Hospital and at this time recuperating from injuries he received in a fall from an automobile at Monticello several days ago.

County Surveyor Arthur Plummer has just completed the division of 258 acres of land in the estate of the late Reuben Michaels of Cloverdale township. The land was surveyed and marked off equally among the heirs of Mr. Michaels. William S. Burris and Alec McCoy of Cloverdale are the commissioners of the estate.

Mrs. Christine Tinsley, of Norfolk, Va., a lecturer in the scientific temperance instruction department of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, spoke to the pupils of the local high school at 10 o'clock this morning. In her talk of twenty minutes, Miss Tinsley showed the physiological effects of narcotics on the human body. The speaker came to Greencastle from South Bend where she spent a week with the schools of that city. At 4 o'clock Miss Tinsley addressed the teachers of the city in the office of Superintendent Henderson in the public library.

The prayer meeting at the Locust street church parlors this evening will be held in the interest of the Sunday school workers and all are cordially invited to attend. A very interesting program will be given and a good attendance is desired.

H. C. Allen, Jr., who recently severed his connections with the Hub Clothing store and Shoe store, left this afternoon for Madison, Wis., prior to locating in business in the West. Mrs. Allen and children will join Mr. Allen as soon as he has decided definitely.

The funeral of Mrs. Dora Reeves, who died shortly after noon Wednesday will be held from the residence on west Walnut street Friday morning at 10:30. The Rev. A. M. Hootman, pastor of the Christian Church will have charge of the services. The pallbearers will be cousins of the deceased, Paul Thomas, Artie Thomas, Bascom Thomas, Charles Thomas, Bert Thomas and Ernest Ewing. Burial will be in the Forest Hill cemetery.

The Hugh T. Miller club of the university met at the Phi Delta house last night in a get together meeting with Republican Central Committee of Putnam county. About 100 were present and a very pleasant meeting and smoker was held. Speeches were made by County Chairman Arthur Reat, David C. Hughes, candidate for county recorder; Charles McGaughey, candidate for representative; Attorney C. L. Peck and L. A. Beard. Lester Brown, president of the club, presided at the meeting.

The work on the improvement of south Indiana street with sidewalks and gutters is progressing rapidly and the foreman stated today that the work will be finished in two weeks. The sidewalks on the west side of the street have been built and the workmen are now working on the eastern portion. The work was delayed several days ago on account of the injury to the foreman and he has been able to be on the work only a few days in the last two weeks. If the weather is favorable the Foulkes Construction company will have the sidewalks, gutters, curbing and crossings in place and ready for use in three or four weeks.

A big cistern at the intersection of Liberty and Madison streets was struck Wednesday by the sewer ditching machine. The cistern was built many years ago and was used for fire prevention when the fire engine was used by the local fire department. It is about 20 feet in diameter and about 20 feet deep and its capacity is estimated at about 1500 barrels. The cistern will have to be filled with dirt and the walls torn out before the excavation for the sewer mains can be laid. The ditching machine is making fast headway with the work on Liberty street and is now working near the corner of Market and Liberty streets. Rock was encountered by the machine in front of the Caldwell Grocery store and extends east to the corner of Madison street. The rock is not solid and will not require much blasting in that vicinity. The workmen are making headway through the stone and rock on Columbia street and the sewer lateral will be laid on that street in a few days.

The Rev. E. G. Shouse will go to Aurora tonight in the interests of the Lincoln Chautauqua system.

O. W. Bridges, of Indianapolis, was a business caller in Greencastle today. Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Davis have gone to their home in Terre Haute after a several days' visit with Mrs. Mary E. Ogle and Claude M. Ogle of Olive street.

Raymond Welch, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Welch, who reside on north Vine street, was brought to his home today from the St. Vincent's Hospital in Indianapolis, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis several weeks ago. He is rapidly recovering and will be able to be out in a few days.

The World's Baseball Series will begin tomorrow, when the Boston Braves, National League champions, and the Philadelphia Athletics, winners of the American League pennant, will play at Philadelphia for the supremacy. Much interest has been taken in the wind-ups of the baseball season. The report of the game by innings will be given at the Star Pool room.

Frederick W. Hixson, D. D., class of 1899 of DePauw, will be inaugurated president of Cattanooga University October twenty-second. After his graduation from DePauw Dr. Hixson was pastor of the Crawfordsville M. E. church. At the last commencement he was given the degree of Doctor of Divinity from DePauw. President George R. Grose will deliver the charge to the president-elect.

The squad of high school athletes which is practicing for the opening game of the football season have shown a great improvement during the past week and the prospects for a scrappy team are very bright. The men who are out for the team are light but fast and much "pep" is in evidence. Several of the candidates for the teams are inexperienced but it will be only a short time until the game is learned and the squad can get down to hard work. Coach Dillon has not, as yet, scheduled any games, but as soon as the team is rounded up in good shape the aggregation will stack up against several of the high schools in this part of the state. Good sport in all probability will be the first game for Greencastle.

SAYS SHE SAW WADE THREATEN EMIL EHLMANN

ROCKVILLE, Ind., Oct. 7.—Declaring she saw Edward Wade, the man who was shot and killed by Emil Ehlmann, rush toward Ehlmann with up-lifted "billy" and strike at Ehlmann, Mrs. Emma Haywood today gave the most sensational testimony of the trial thus far for the defense. Mrs. Haywood said she was standing on the right side of the door within the Ehlmann factory, that the entire vestibule was filled with struggling men and women, that she saw Wade rush through the crowd with right arm up-lifted and that suspended from his right wrist was a "billy" with which Wade was striking at Ehlmann. She testified Wade struck Ehlmann on the shoulder and that she heard the shot fired, but did not see who fired the shot. The witness said she did not know Wade prior to the tragedy.

THE GRAND JURY CALLED TO MAKE INVESTIGATION

The grand jury drawn to make investigations during the fall term of court was summoned Wednesday and are now working on several cases. The cutting of the telephone wires on a line between Mt. Meridian and Belle Union has caused much trouble in that part of the county and an effort is being made to find the parties guilty of the misdemeanor. Only a few weeks ago two Mt. Meridian lads were charged with cutting the wires and arraigned in Justice or Peace Phillip Frank's Court. They were dismissed for evidence against them was lacking. Many people from Mt. Meridian and Belle Union were summoned before the grand jury today and an investigation is being made. The jury will investigate several other cases before it is dismissed.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon the jury had finished practically all of the business and heard the evidence in the Mt. Meridian case. No indictments have been returned. A south end case was investigated this afternoon.

BLOOMINGTON MUST GET WATER FROM WHITE RIVER

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 8.—That White River offers the only inexhaustible supply of water available for the city of Bloomington is the finding of the Public Service Commission, which, on the request of citizens, investigated the water question in the university city.

The commission issued an order Sept. 28, though the fact did not become public until yesterday, directing that the city of Bloomington, by its mayor and Common Council, "prepare at its earliest convenience" to construct a pipeline from White River to Bloomington, a distance of about thirteen miles. It is said that the improvement would cost $275,000 or $300,000.

The city of Bloomington is on a considerably higher elevation than White River and a big problem will be presented in arranging to transport the water from the river to the city. The water, if taken from the river, of course, would have to be purified.

The commission finds that "the supply of water in the reservoir used by the water plant at the time of the hearing (July 27 last) was insufficient and inadequate." The commission further finds "that the city is building a dam to conserve a greater supply of water than it now has, and that when the dam is completed it will be suitable to the water system and assist greatly in supplying water to the users of said water system."

The commission, however, finds that the rock under the new reservoir is of soluble limestone, and "will no doubt give in the future the same result as has been experienced in the other reservoirs used by the city, namely, subterranean passages will be formed which will cause a leakage from the reservoir and further cause an inadequate supply of water in the reservoir as has heretofore been demonstrated in the other reservoirs."

Earl Lane and Ernest Stoner were fishing on Deer Creek near Putnamville today.

STOVE TIME IS HERE

Now is the time for you to select your Heating Stove or Range for the winter use. Don't delay until cold weather is here but come now to the

-Stove Headquarters Of Putnam County-

We have the largest and most complete line of heating stoves and ranges in the county. Any kind of stove you may desire will be found here at constant prices.

The Hot Blast Universal Heater

The peer of all hot blast stoves has no hot blast ring to burn out each season. This one feature alone makes it superior to any other heating stove.

It saves fuel and gives greatest heat.

Let us show you this stove--We have it in different sizes at right prices.

The Majestic Range---The Leader of all Ranges is sold here

Come in and let's talk over the stove question.

John Cook & Son

Greencastle, Ind. Hardware & Implements. North Side Square.

Where the Studebaker Farm Wagon is Sold

Funeral of Late Albert Allen.

The funeral of the late Albert Allen, age 72, former resident of Greencastle, who was killed last Friday in an automobile accident near San Diego, Cal., was held at the College Avenue Methodist Church this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Dr. H. A. Gobin, Dr. S. B. Town and Dr. Demetrius Tillotson had charge of the services. The music was by the College Avenue choir. The following were the pallbearers: R. L. O'Hair, A. B. Phillips, H. B. Longden, S. A. Hays, Will Jones and Joseph T. Dobell. Interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

The body of the deceased reached Greencastle at 5:21 Wednesday evening and was taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Smith, to await burial. The body was accompanied here from the west by Mrs. Allen, the widow, and Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Allen, the former a son of the deceased. Among the other relatives who were here for the funeral are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rippetoe, Indianapolis and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Royse of Terre Haute.

George Fox, of Reelsville, transacted business in Greencastle today.

Announcement

Having taken over the agency of the late George E. Blake, we will be pleased to represent the business now of the heirs, and are prepared to handle any business our friends may wish our way.

We represent five of the leading Fire Insurance Companies of America, showing aggregate admitted assets of $82,807,047.

We also write Health and Accident Insurance. Insure with us and have absolute security. We solicit you for Fire, Cyclone and Accident Insurance and hope to merit your patronage.

Office southeast corner Vine and Poplar Streets.

W. L. DENMAN & SON
PHONE 63.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD

The Store for Men of all Tastes

There are in this community several different classes of men whose tastes and wants in suits are quite varied. For those men who wish to pay from $15 to $25 for their clothes and prefer designing that is up to date and yet such that does not border on the extreme, there is provided at this store a showing of new Fall suits that is certain to meet with instant approval. The tailoring in each garment is not surpassed anywhere at such prices and the patterns chosen by us for their distinctiveness are very admirable.

Good Values in Hats at $2

These will more than meet your expectations

The styles are copies of those at much higher prices, Derbies and Soft Hats--new styles for young men, middle aged and older--new fall shades.

$15, $17, $20 and $25

are to be had in models to fit men of most all proportions. May one of our mirrors show you how one of these suits will look on you?

The HUB CLOTHING & SHOE STORE

WANT ADS

Advertisements Under This Heading 1/2 Cent a Word--No advertisement for Less Than 10 Cents.

FOR SALE--One-half interest in 20 acres of corn standing in field ready to cut. Also one good sound draft mare, weight about 1250 lbs. C. R. Dulin, Limesdale, Ind. Telephone E., No. 3.

FOR RENT--Thoroughly modern 7-room house at 527 Anderson street. Phone Greene 680.

LOST--A bunch of 6 or 8 keys on a ring and owner's name attached. Reward if returned to the Herald office.

FRENCH REMEDY FOR STOMACH TROUBLES

The leading doctors of France have for years used a prescription of vegetable oils for chronic stomach trouble and constipation that acts like a charm. One dose will convince you. Severe cases of years' standing are often greatly benefited within 24 hours. So many people are getting surprising results that we feel all persons suffering from constipation, lower bowel, liver and stomach troubles should try Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. It is now sold here by all druggists.

William Burris, of Cloverdale, was in the city on business today.

Phone 67 For

Fresh Oysters, Celery, Rocky Ford Melons, Eating Apples, Sweet Oranges, California Grapes, New Pancake Flour. All kinds of fancy baking goods.

ZEIS & CO.

Use Egg-Save

for baking and cooking without eggs. Reduces egg cost to 8c a day. For sale here

LAGLE'S Pure Food Market
Telephone No. 1-3-7
Corner Indiana and Walnut Sts.